Welcome

Welcome to Hands for Haiti! We are so grateful for your interest in coming on a trip with us. We want you to have a great trip — so please read this packet carefully. It's full of helpful information about our mission and what to expect on your trip. May God bless you as you embark on this incredible journey and explore what He has planned for you!

Hands for Haiti ~

Goals for our mission trips:

- To work alongside the Haitian people in a variety of projects that help us to appreciate the poor and most vulnerable and to share our lives, faith and love to build lasting relationships.
- To share our experiences in Haiti with people back in the U.S. helping all to see how blessed we all are... and that God blesses us not so we can consume His many blessings for ourselves, but to let them flow through us to others.
- To encourage all to be obedient to God's call to serve the poor. Through a short term mission experience, you will step out in faith and to see our world through a different lens.
- And finally, not just to live life, but to live life with significance and purpose... God's purpose for our lives.

God's Work Through Hands for Haiti ~

Since 2010, Hands for Haiti has been involved in many projects. Here is some of the work their teams have been involved in:

- Distributed school supplies to over 100 earthquake refugee students.
- Helped build shelters in Port au Prince after the earthquake.
- Helped with soil conservation projects.
- Distributed hundreds of water filters to families in the mountains.
- Planted and distributed hundreds of fruit and vegetable plants to families in the mountains to teach sustainable farming.
- Built a home for an earthquake refugee family
- Built school benches for 250 students in the mountains.
- Renovated and built shelves in a room that houses books for a much-needed school program
- Delivered 100's of books and started a library at a primary school in the village.
- Helped distribute monthly stipend of food with the TiMange Food Program
- Provide health care in the mountains for over 200 patients per week.
- Given the opportunity for over 7 families to have farms and learn budgeting to support their families.

Our Values

Hands for Haiti is a faith based non-profit 501(c)3 dedicated to serving the poor in Haiti. We believe each one of us has been put on earth for a unique God given purpose and that we have all been blessed with different gifts. Hands for Haiti seeks to use our gifts and those of our team members so that God may bless those we serve.

Haiti is a country with 70-80% unemployment... one of the poorest in the world, yet Haiti has been blessed with many who have much time and talent. We believe it would be a disservice to our Haitian brothers and sisters to bring mission teams to Haiti to do what Haitians can do themselves while the unemployed watch us work.

Whenever possible, Hands for Haiti hires Haitians to do the work that needs to be done. Everything we do, we do alongside the Haitians. Also, we never push the work load, as the reason for coming is not so much to “do” as it to “be”.

We come alongside them to support them and build relationships with them... and to enjoy the fruits of God’s love in each other!

“Start by doing what's necessary; then do what's possible; and suddenly you are doing the impossible.”

~ St. Francis of Assisi

“Only in heaven will we see how much we owe to the poor for helping us to love God better because of them.”

~ Blessed Mother Teresa

Before You Go

One of the most important things you can do to ensure that you experience the best trip possible is to plan ahead. Third world travel can be unpredictable and always requires flexibility, but you can eliminate many “surprises” by being well prepared.

Passport

The Haitian authorities require that all Americans entering Haiti have a valid passport. You will not be allowed into Haiti without one. Check with your post office for a passport application, or go to the U.S. Department of State web page: <http://travel.state.gov/passport>. All travelers are required to bring a colored photocopy of their passport for the team leader to keep.

Immunizations

Because we are not a medical mission, we cannot recommend what immunizations to get but encourage everyone to seek professional advice from their doctor or clinic about tetanus and influenza, typhoid and hepatitis A and B vaccines. You should also consult your doctor about anti-malaria medications. You can visit <http://www.cdc.gov/travel/destinationHaiti.aspx#vaccines> for the most up-to-date health information regarding travel to Haiti. *note – no vaccinations are required, only recommended.

Medications

Medical identification (tags, bracelet, card, etc.) must be carried by anyone with chronic illness such as diabetes or heart conditions. If you take prescription medications, bring enough to last at least 2 weeks. We ask that each person bring with them an anti-diarrheal medication (like Imodium), sunscreen and bug spray containing Deet.

Jewelry

Leave it at home! We do not want to bring attention to ourselves with expensive jewelry or diamonds, so we suggest you bring a simple cross necklace. It is actually beneficial to wear a cross so that people know that you are with a Christian organization.

Raising Support

How can you raise support?

- Tell your church. Consider going to your priest, elders, ministers or mission committee and tell them what you are doing. Often they will offer to help pay for all or part of your trip.
- Write support letters. Even if your friends and family are not believers in Christ, many still believe in good causes and will help you financially. Send letters to friends, your parents' friends, colleagues, neighbors, etc. You may be surprised to find out how many people are willing to help. Make all donations payable to Hands for Haiti and put your name in the memo line. All donations are tax deductible for your supporters. If you need guidance, please read the sample support letter on the next page.
- Get your community involved. Make it a project with your youth group, friends, family, or neighbors. Hold a garage sale, car wash, bake sale, or auction.
- Use holidays. Instead of asking for birthday or Christmas gifts, ask family and friends to help you go on a mission trip. You will find that the sacrifice of giving up a present will pale in comparison to the joy of being the hands and feet of Jesus in Haiti.
- Be sure to send thank-you notes to your supporters. And while you're at it, you might bring them small gifts from Haiti, it is a great way to show your appreciation and share with them about your experience.

Sample Letter

Dear Friends,

I hope things are going well with you. I have some exciting news that I wanted to share! I am going on a mission trip to the poorest country in the Western Hemisphere — Haiti. I have thought about this, prayed, and talked it over with many close friends and/or family. I really feel like this is an opportunity that I cannot pass up.

We are making the trip with Hands for Haiti, an organization that works in Haiti providing water filters, food distribution, housing, education and the example of Christ to the poor and most vulnerable. The dates of the trip are _____. The total cost of the trip is $_____.

I am writing to you to ask for your financial support. Anything you are able to give would be helpful! Gifts to Hands for Haiti, designated for my trip expenses, are tax deductible. If I am unable to participate in the trip, your gifts are still tax deductible and will be used to support the mission.

If you are unable to give at this time, I completely understand! I seek your prayers as I begin to plan for this mission trip. As you can imagine, raising support is sometimes difficult, but I know that if it is the Lord's will that I make this trip, then He will provide.

While in Haiti, I will have the opportunity to:

- Work alongside the Haitians
- Distribute Food to those in need
- Work at Mother Teresa Missionaries of Charity
- Visit schools and/or gardens
- Bring needed supplies
- Build relationships and deepen my faith

If you are able to help, please make your check payable to "Hands for Haiti", put my name in the memo line and return in the enclosed envelope to me by (DATE). I need to know where my support is coming from and what other support I will need to raise before I leave.

To learn more about the mission and its ministry, please visit their website at: www.handsforhaiti.net. My desire for this trip is to perhaps make a small difference in the life of the Haitian people. Please continue to pray for me as these plans fall into place.

Love, Jane Smith

Special Note*

Liquid Personal Toiletries larger than 3oz (toothpaste, shampoo, lotion, sunscreen, insect repellent) needs to be packed in checked luggage because it cannot be carried on the airplane in your carry on.

If we are able, you may be responsible for a "Group" Suitcase which may include: *Health Teams will bring medical/health supplies.

- Games/toys
- Tennis shoes & Hats
- Soccer Balls & jump ropes
- Candy and balloons
- Housewares and fabric
- Other items Hands for Haiti will have.

About the trip...

Water

You should not drink or brush your teeth with any water in Haiti except from bottled water furnished by our guesthouse. Personal water bottles can be refilled at the guesthouse from a purified water cooler. *Mountain teams are required to purchase a Sawyer water bottle.

Food Meals

While in Haiti, it is best to eat only foods prepared by our guesthouse. Your team leader will know when it is OK outside of the guesthouse. Everyone is different and some will have more sensitive stomachs than others. We will eat traditional Haitian meals with occasional American twists, i.e. pizza. Be careful to take only what you will consume. Even if there is food left over, the cooks will take it to their families.

In the Field

Carry snacks in your backpack such as granola bars, nuts, beef jerky and dried fruit. Chocolate will melt. Bring enough to share with our Haitian workers! Also remember to fill your water bottles every time we go out.

Clothing

There is laundry service available at the guest house for approx. $3. If you lay your clothes out for cleaning in the morning they are usually be back within 1-2 days.

Money

We recommend bringing $50 - $200 in cash for helping others/tips and/or souvenirs. There is a local artisan store at the guesthouse that displays their trinkets. You may also purchase soda at the guesthouse for $1 each. Do not bring any bills larger than $20. *Make sure there are no tears in your bills. They will not accept them. Our guesthouse will change money into Haitian dollars and gourdes for you when needed. Meals and bottled water are included in the cost of the trip.

NEVER give money to anybody. Please talk with your team leader if you feel led to give. Chaos can happen quickly and you will be surrounded by hundreds if word gets out! Many people will ask you for a dollar when we are in the streets, I always shake my head no and respond that I only have God's love to give them. They won't understand what you are saying...just keep moving. "Bondye Beni'ou", which means "God Bless You" in Creole is also nice.

A few more things to know about...

Customs/Immigration

Upon entering Haiti you will be given a “green” card that you need to have when you depart Haiti. Do not lose this. Tuck it in your passport. We will collect your passport and keep it in the safe in the guesthouse. Items in your room are secure and can be left in your room when you are in the field.

Going to the Bathroom

Because we work in the poorest areas in Haiti, there is no access to toilets in the field most of the time. We suggest that you try to get in a routine of using the bathroom at the Guest House before we leave each morning. The water you drink during the day from your water bottles in your back pack, for the most part is sweated out of your body and you may be surprised that you will not need to go that often! We do need to be careful about dehydration, so you need to be sure that you are going to the bathroom enough every day. If you feel the slightest signs of diarrhea coming on, take Imodium right away or let your team leader know. *Do not flush feminine products.

Communicating to Loved Ones Back Home

The Guest House does have limited internet access, so we will be able to post on our blog or Facebook daily. Because this is a mission trip – away from the comforts of your home, we ask that you are not on the internet unless you are posting a blog. Your leader will have a Haitian phone, so you can call back to the States if it is needed. Typically team members may call home when we arrive and once again in the middle of the week if needed.

Haitians

Most Haitians can understand French, yet they speak Creole. So a morning greeting will be “Bonjou”. An afternoon or evening greeting will be “Bonswa.” When you are walking in the streets typically Haitians will not greet you until you greet them first. Most are very friendly.

NEVER give money to anyone that asks on the street. If you want to help a specific need, talk to your leader about it. Sometimes you will hear Haitians call you “Blanc”. This just means white. Always stay with the group and let your light shine! Be respectful when using your camera. Some people will not allow you to take their photo. It is best to ask if you are going to focus in on someone.

About Haiti...

A few things to know about...Haiti

- Haiti is the poorest country in the Western Hemisphere and only 90 minutes from the U.S. by airplane
- According to UNICEF, only 30% of Haitians have access to clean drinking water
- 80% of Haitians live in poverty making less than $2 a day
- 1 in 8 children in Haiti will die before the age of 5 from treatable and/or curable diseases
- Half of the people in Haiti do not know how to read or write
- Roughly 80% of Haitians are Roman Catholic
- The poor children of Haiti are sometimes fed dirt cookies, made of dirt and oil, then baked in the sun because their family cannot afford food
- Capital City is Port-au-Prince
- Almost 9 million people live in Haiti
- Life expectancy is 51
- Official language is Creole although children learn French at school
- Over 300,000 people were killed in the 2010 earthquake leaving 1.5 million people homeless and living in tents.

While you are in Haiti...

Short-term mission trips are an incredible opportunity to grow spiritually, to cultivate an awareness of the world and needs around you, and to respond to God's call to share the Gospel through personal and servant ministry. Haitian lives are changed as a result of your visit, and your life will be changed too. We strive to offer everyone the opportunity for hands-on ministry. We trust that God will work through all the planning, preparation and prayer to make your trip a powerful experience and to glorify Christ.

Some Simple Guidelines

- Be Prompt.
 - Be at breakfast by 8:00am or earlier. We will typically eat dinner 1/2 hour after returning from the days' adventure.
- Be flexible.
 - Changes in schedule are likely to occur.
- Be patient and understanding.
 - Try to be solution focused. Look for the good in the bad. We are wide open for Satan's interference. Your experience may not always be comfortable.
- Volunteer.
 - Transportation may get tricky at time, and we will need people to volunteer to ride in the back of the pickup or Tap Tap. Only volunteer if you are physically capable to do this.
- Be open.
 - Leave room for God to show up and do His work. Don't be dependent on the schedule and our earthly plans.
- Share.
 - We ask that you share each evening during group time what impacted you that day and other thoughts about your experiences.
- Alcohol and Cigarettes.
 - Our standard practice is to ask all team members to refrain from smoking or drinking while on a Hands for Haiti mission trip.
- Get your Shine on.
 - Always carry yourself in a way that honors Christ and offers a positive witness to the Haitian people.

When You Return Home

We have found when we get back home we are full of excitement and awe. We also feel some guilt at our abundance and maybe even a bit judgmental of our culture and how we spend money and lack Godly priorities. Recognize these feelings. Begin to make changes in your own life. Pray. Share your experiences with your family, your church, your friends, your co-workers. Show them your photos, direct them to the Hands for Haiti blog, put a presentation together and ask God to help you raise awareness and funds for Haiti. Hopefully on your trip you saw very clearly how one person can impact a life.
